SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF GREENFIELD:

I herewith submit for your consideration my annual report on the condition and progress of your schools.

We have, this year, the same teachers as for two years previous. It often happens in small, country towns that a complete change in the teaching force is necessary every year. We have had the same teachers now for three years, and the results in the progress of the children have been excellent.

I have made mention in my previous reports of the emphasis we are placing on arithmetic, English, and spelling. The emphasis is still being placed on these subjects. Our aim is to make the work that we cover as thorough as possible. In arithmetic in the first four grades we are trying to make the four fundamental operations automatic. The children are drilled on the number combinations, on addition, subtraction, multiplication and division until they can do these things readily. Of course, some children get them more readily than others, and in much less time, but, so far as possible, we are attempting to bring all children up to a fair degree of facility in these processes. In the Grammar school almost daily drill is given in mental arithmetic, and some of the pupils are becoming quite proficient in this kind of work.

In spelling we have a definite list of words for each grade, in the spelling of which each child must become as near perfect as possible. There is a standard set for each twenty words which must be attained by every child. Frequent reviews are provided for, and the procedure is such that the child spends his time in studying words that he actually does not know how to spell. This not only saves time, but makes better spellers with a larger number of words which they can spell correctly.

New geographies have been purchased based on the latest methods of teaching this subject. The old geographies had become out of date, especially the maps of Europe, Africa, and many of the islands. New wall maps should be purchased soon of these continents.

Within the last two years, also, we have secured new text books in language and grammar.

Perhaps the least satisfactory results are being obtained in handwriting. This may be due, in part, to the lack of any definite system that can be taught by teachers. The majority of systems are too technical, and require considerable skill and training in order to teach them successfully. The Houston system seems to be about as near an approach to something that the average teacher can handle successfully as any on the market today, and, when funds are available, it is planned to introduce this system.

These subjects mentioned are considered by all to be among the fundamental ones. There are other subjects which are essential to the all round development of the child and these are receiving due attention. Hygiene and health, history and civics, current events and others are being taught. Of course, United States history in the upper grades becomes an important subject. The little school paper, "Current Events," is furnished to the grammar school, and through this the children become better acquainted with the happenings of the outside world.

In music and drawing we are not able to do as much as we would desire. Perhaps at some time arrangements can be made whereby instruction in these important subjects can be given.

On the whole very satisfactory progress is being made in the regular school work.

Attendance

The per cent. of attendance for last year was 91. This is 2.1% better than the year previous. The number of tardiness was 73, a decrease of 34 from the year before. This is encouraging and indicates a keener realization of the importance of regularity and punctuality on the part of parents and children. The fall and early winter months of this year showed an even better record. How the prevailing sickness for a part of the winter will affect the total for the year it is impossible to tell at this time. We should, however, strive to overcome the handicap and come out at the close of the year with a better record than ever. The majority of the children are showing fine enthusiasm in this respect. The statistical table of attendance for last year is included at the close of this report.

Health Work

The result of the medical examination of school children last spring is as follows.

Number examined	63
Defective vision	6
Defective hearing	2
Defective teeth	39
Enlarged tonsils	17
Unvaccinated	39

If proper attention is given by parents to the physical defects discovered at the examination much good will follow. Notices are sent out to the parents of children who are discovered with some physical ailment. These notices are for the purpose of acquainting the parent with the fact that their child is suffering a handicap in his mental and physical development, in order that steps may be taken by them to remedy the situation. To make the work effective we need the cooperation of all parents to the end that we may have a physically fit body of school children. While no data is at hand regarding the result of the dental clinic held in the fall, no doubt much good was accomplished by it.

In order to emphasize the importance and necessity of good health regular instruction is given in the schools in hygiene, including the proper care of the body and the rules and laws which govern the preservation of good health. The proper care of the teeth is being emphasized this year.

General

Besides the victrola which was purchased by the schools last year, they raised enough money through entertainments and socials to completely equip each school room with window screens and screen doors. This certainly was most commendable and has added something of material value to the schools.

Graduating exercises for the eighth grade were held last June when a class of six boys and girls went out from your schools. They were equipped, I believe, to do good work, and were well grounded in the essentials of an elementary school education.

The furnaces voted at the last school neeting have been installed, and it is hoped that, after experience is gained in operating them, they will prove satisfactory.

In closing may I express my gratitude to all who, by their cooperation, have helped to make the work of the schools during the past year, successful, and to the teachers who, by their faithfulness and enthusiasm, have produced such good results.

Respectfully submitted,

L. E. Prior
